IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF) BEN J. ADNEY, Deceased.)

DECREE SETTING OVER HOMESTEAD TO SURVIVING WIDOW AS HER ABSOLUTE PROPERTY

Jean G. Adney, surviving widow of Ben J. Adney, deceased, having on the 6th day of May, 1944, filed her Petition for an order and decree of this Court setting over and apart for her use and to her as her homestead and as her absolute property in fee, the homestead and family residence owned and occupied as such by said decedent and Jean G. Adney, surviving widow, which is hereinafter more particularly described.

And it appearing to the Court that an Order to Show Cause was made on the 6th day of May A. D. 1944, and duly entered herein on May 9th, 1944, upon said petition, which order to show cause was published in said county and state, for a period of three successive weeks, and as required by law; and that proof of said publication has been filed herein. /in the Pinedale, Roundup, a newspaper of general circulation published

And it appearing to the Court that the property described in said petition is exempt under the exemption laws of the State of Wyoming.

And it further appearing that no objections have been filed herein, and all and singular the law and evidence being by the Court heard, understood and considered, and the Court being now sufficiently advised in the premises, doth say and find that all the allegations contained in the petition filed herein are true.

And the Court further finds that the premises described in the petition as a homestead of the decedent and his surviving widow, were occupied as a homestead and family residence prior to the death of said decedent, and that said surviving widow is entitled to have said real property set over and apart to her as her absolute property in fee, under the provisions of the statutes in such case made and provided.

And the Court further finds that said real property and premises as is more particularly shown by the inventory and appraisement filed herein, was originally appraised at the sum of $1800.00 and subsequently reappraised and inventoried for the sum of $2500.00.
