

1. The first part of the report is a general description of the area. It includes the location, the size, and the general character of the area.

2. The second part of the report is a description of the vegetation. It includes the types of plants, the distribution of the plants, and the general character of the vegetation.

3. The third part of the report is a description of the animals. It includes the types of animals, the distribution of the animals, and the general character of the animals.

4. The fourth part of the report is a description of the climate. It includes the temperature, the precipitation, and the general character of the climate.