

and the court being fully advised in the premises and no ²²¹ person appearing to object or show cause ~~that~~ the time fixed for hearing on this order or at all, the court finds that the allegations contained in the petition are true; that William Patrick Dew also known as William P. Dew, also known as W. P. Dew, died on or about April 22, 1966; that he and Roxie L. Dew at said time were husband and wife residing in Sublette County, Wyoming; that since the death of said deceased, the petitioner, Roxie L. Dew, has been and is now a resident of Sublette County, Wyoming; that the only property left by the deceased at the time of his death consisted of an interest in real and personal property which is fully described in the Inventory and Appraisement filed herein.

The court further finds that Notice to Creditors has been published as required by law and that the Inventory and Appraisement of the property of said estate has been returned to this court as required by law; that all charges and expenses of administration of the estate, expenses of last illness of said decedent and funeral expenses have either been fully paid or satisfactory arrangements made to pay the same; that there are no debts against said deceased or against said estate of any nature whatsoever excepting for the payment of certain administration expenses, hereinafter described; that the interest in the real estate and the personal property of said estate is of the total appraised value of $3,043.89; that the petitioner is entitled to have the same set over to her as exempt property under the laws of the State of Wyoming.